DEDICATION

TO JOHN HEIM, our highly respected building custodian, we dedicate this, "The 1942 Mound," as a means of showing our deep appreciation for what he has done for us. Always willing to aid those who need his services, he has set before us an example of lasting devotion.

Commonly known by his host of friends as "Shorty," he is closely associated with the "Fighting Teachers." He is a loyal follower of all our athletic teams. Many local citizens think of the two as being synonymous. This keen interest in athletics started in his youth, and during early manhood he was a professional baseball player. The realization of "Shorty's" dream for the college was fulfilled with the construction of the new, spacious Colebank Gymnasium.

Dramatics is another one of "Shorty's" many interests. He enjoys amateur productions very much and is often seen attending chapel programs and taking part in group singing and other activities.

"Shorty" never attended any college or university. He has been schooled the difficult way, by experience. He is a most interesting conversationalist and enjoys mingling with students and teachers. His sense of humor is remarkable and he greets every one with a courteous, friendly smile.

"Shorty" was born and reared near Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, later moving to West Virginia. He has been a resident of Fairmont for several years and is a devoted father and husband to his family. All three of his children have attended Fairmont State College; Mrs. John Cranwell, the former Emma Heim, a member of the class of '35. Mrs. L. A. Wallman, the former Louise Heim, a member of the graduate class of '32, and his only son John Heim, Jr. who is serving with the United States Army in Camp Dupont, Delaware, attended this institution in 1937.

He was first employed in this institution as a night watchman, later becoming building custodian. His duties and obligations are performed promptly and meet with the satisfaction and approval of all.

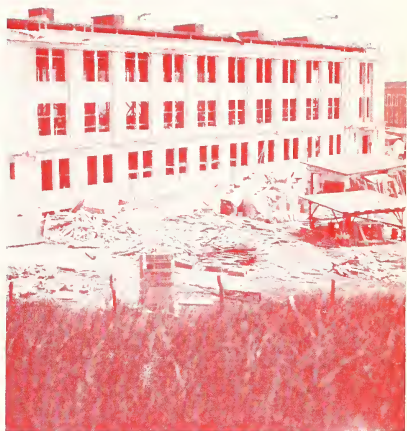

We recognize him as a leader, a friend and an influence to the students on our campus. "Shorty," the students of Fairmont College wish you lasting happiness!

New Times Demand New Measures and New Men.—Lowell

Regardless of where Fairmont College athletic teams travel, or when the famous Maroon and White Band plays, or wherever that Fairmont College spirit prevails, the symbol of our college activities is always present. Realizing this, the "Fighting Teacher," symbolic of our school, was selected as a theme for the current number of The Mound.

The "Fighting Teacher" illustrations were created by the capable Ernest Freed, a member of the Art Department. Through his careful and undaunted work, the Staff was able to complete the theme. The staff expresses its gratitude to Mr. Freed for his efforts and untiring patience.

Progress, Man's Distinctive Mark Alone.—Browning

Founded in 1865, Fairmont State Teachers College has grown into an educational institution which features a beautiful and spacious campus. Newest among the buildings located on our campus is Colebank Gymnasium. Boasting of two gym floors, a modern swimming pool, clinics, well-equipped class rooms, locker rooms, showers, offices and equipment rooms, this building was put into service for the first time this year.

Many students still in school can recall memories of the old gym, commonly called "The Barn," being torn down and replaced by a magnificent new gymnasium. Construction of this building was intently watched by all connected with the school. In future years we hope to be able to help recall these memories by these pages of snapshots.

Hard at Work on
An Analytic's
Problem

It is a luxury to learn; but the luxury of learning is not to be compared with the luxury of teaching.—Hitchcock

WORKING with young people with intensive inspiration has always been a revealing characteristic trait of United States Senator Joseph Rosier, who is on leave-of-absence as President of Fairmont State College.

DR. JOSEPH ROSIER

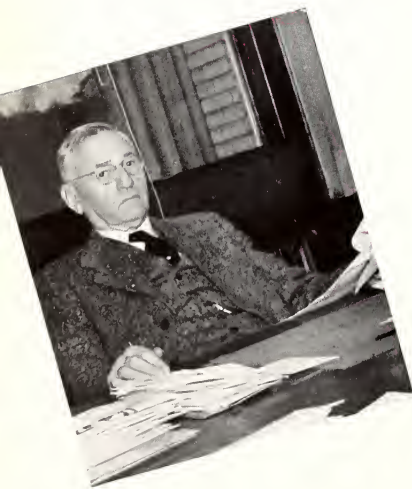

Renowned in educational circles, Dr. Rosier for 25 years has accepted and offered guidance to students and faculty members of the college in deep and earnest interest. He has been an inspiration to pupils and to teachers. Through him the Student Council organization has become one of the finest in the State and has exercised democratic powers. Dr. Rosier believes in young people and in their integrity when given responsibility.

A native of the state, Dr. Rosier was born in the village of Wilsonburg, in Harrison County. He is a descendant of a long line of honorable West Virginia ancestors. Educated in the elementary schools of Harrison County, he began his teaching career in 1890. Thus for more than 50 years he has been actively engaged in the field of education.

From a village school Dr. Rosier went to the principalship of the Salem school, thence to the superintendency of the schools of Harrison County. It was there that his public career began in earnest. At the same time he was furthering his formal education and in 1895 received his B. Pd. degree from Salem College. Later he received an A. M. degree, and in 1933, after the National Education Association had honored him as its president, Marshall College conferred an LL.D. on him.

Dr. Rosier, who is, and always will be, "Uncle Joe" to thousands of men and women in all professions and businesses who have come in contact with him through the years, has brought national distinction and honor to the teaching profession, as well as to the entire State of West Virginia when he filled the office of the Junior United States Senator from West Virginia. He has always been cognizant of his duties and his responsibilities in whatever role he has been placed, for honors have come to him because he merited them.

So, to Dr. Rosier, the students of the college are proud to acclaim him as their friend—one who appreciates their willingness to obtain an education.

For him the Teacher's chair became a throne.—Longfellow

SENIOR CLASS

Entering a war-ridden and troubled world, the Senior Class departs from its college days with numerous unforgettable memories and experiences. This group has been particularly active with Betty Morgan as Vice President, Earl Wayne McConnell as Treasurer, and Jeanette Sturm as Secretary of the Student Body.

Class Officers were William Dilgard, President; Ruth Shanaberger, Vice President; and Anna Marie Cook, Secretary-Treasurer.

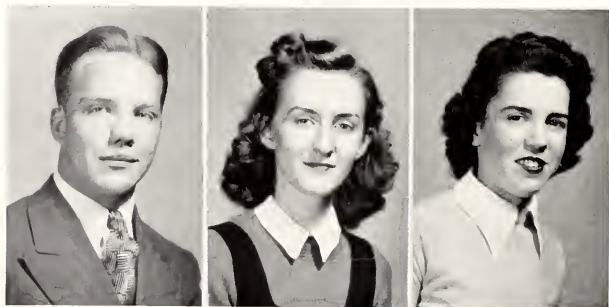

Active on the Columns Staff were Edgar Suite, Managing Editor; Jeanette Jacobs, Business Manager; and Mary Manley, Women's Sports Editor. Joseph Talerico was also a member of the staff until being called into the United States Army.

Participants in varsity sports, who are Seniors, are: Leonard Walls, Mitchell Bodzek, William Dilgard, John Tatta, Joseph Oliverio, John Dewey Hawkins, John Victor, and Carl Miller.

Seniors who won national recognition in the nation-wide publication, "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," are Charles Anderson, Edgar Suite, Katherine Bradley, William Dilgard, Gerald Hayes, Aldred Wallace, Jeanette Jacobs, Scott Jaynes, and Earl Wayne McConnell.

The casts of many college play productions often included Mary Powers, Scott Jaynes, Jean Crawford, Vivian Thomas, Lois Heflin, and Katherine Bradley.

JUNIOR CLASS

Proving to be enterprising, ambitious, and hard-working, the Junior Class carried its banners with dignity. Eugene Satterfield, succeeding James McDougal as President, Anne Lynch as Vice President, and Mildred Jones as Secretary-Treasurer, performed efficiently their duties as class officers. An outstanding athlete, Robert Pence, served as President of the Student Body.

Climaxing the year, lovely Elaine Hutchinson reigned over the ninth annual Junior Prom, an outstanding social event of the year. The Maid of Honor was Anne Lynch.

Athletes of this group are: Robert Barnes, Robert Pence, Dick Berry, Howard Yoho, Frank Belcastro, Carroll Kearns, Walter Owens, Warren Owens, Jack Miller, Eugene Satterfield, Sam Stidger, Frank Meyers, and Harry Cronin. Anne Lynch and Virginia Lee Marshall served as cheerleaders.

The two major publications of the school were largely carried on by the efforts of the Junior Class. Josephine Jenkins served as Editor-in-Chief of the Columns, Ruth Mayhall was News Editor, and Phoebe Louise Coombs acted as Advertising Manager. The Mound staff was composed of Randolph Norris, Editor-in-Chief; William Hogan, Associate Editor; Howard Yoho, Business Manager, and Harry Cronin, Associate Business Manager.

Those from this class recognized by Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges were Josephine Jenkins, James McDougal, Randolph Norris, and Robert Pence.

William Smoot, Elaine Hutchinson, William Hogan, and Josephine Jenkins are outstanding performers in the college play productions. Duane Lockard was a member of the Debate Team.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Dramatics, athletics, publications, and social functions have had the ardent support of the Sophomore Class. The Class of '45 has excelled in many fields of activity during the year and they feel that they have done much in upholding the high standards of Fairmont College. With extreme interest and vigor they look forward to future years in which they hope, not only to equal this year's mark, but to raise the standards previously set. This class promises to produce men of quality and leadership for high ideals which make up scholarship and college spirit. The major event of the Sophomore class activities was the annual Dad's Day program. With all arrangement previously planned the weather interfered with a drenching down-pour and interrupted what promised to be an interesting day.

Those of the Sophomore Class who rightfully deserve recognition for active work in major school functions were many. Emmabelle Murphy, Turner Sturm, and Ladine O'Neal were members of the Column's staff. Athletes of the group are Ted McDougal, Steve Yergovich, Frank Allessio, Jack Braebender, Lyle Edwards, John Shilley, and Harley Pyles. Lyle Edwards served as Sergeant-at-Arms of the Student Body, while Turner Sturm acted as cheerleader. Walter Wolfe, Lena Gabriel, Don Cole, and Eleanor Sincell are renowned dramats. Class officers were Jack Hayhurst, President; Viola Springer, Vice President; and Lena Gabriel, Secretary-Treasurer.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Characteristic of all Freshmen Classes of Fairmont College, the zeal and ambition of this group was present again this year. Making themselves known in a short time, they took an active interest in every phase of college life. After election of officers at the beginning of the year, the group soon became a well organized body. An easily adapted class, they performed all the functions expected of them. Now, after a year of hard work, the Freshman class is fully accepted in all the circles on the hill. Members of this group will go on earnestly striving through their years at Fairmont State, hoping to conquer all obstacles in their path.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES

Fourteen Junior and Senior students of Fairmont State College received national honor by being listed in this year's edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." The qualifications that are used as a basis for the selection are character, leadership, scholarship, and potentialities. We feel that our students having won these laurels, rightfully deserve recognition.

CHARLES ANDERSON

Will receive his A.B. degree in Mathematics and plans to teach. He is a member of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, Lambda Delta Lambda, President of Nu Alpha Phi, Managing Editor of The Mound in 1941, winner of the Laura F. Lewis Scholarship award.

KATHERINE BRADLEY

Majoring in Elementary Education, she is a member of the Gamma Chi Chi sorority, President of the Masquer's Club, Vice President of the Choral Club, a Freshman Counselor, and was a Band sponsor. She is also a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Gamma Mu, and Alpha Psi Omega.

WILLIAM DILGARD

Bill will receive his A.B. degree in Social Studies. He possesses memberships in the Zeta Sigma, Lambda Alpha Sigma, Pi Gamma Mu fraternities, and Inter-Fraternity Council, President of the Senior Class, Kappa Delta Pi, and Social Science Club.

GERALD HAYES

His major is Chemistry and he plans to be an industrial chemist. He is a member of the Zeta Sigma fraternity, Student Council, Pi Upsilon Phi, Lambda Delta Lambda, Kappa Delta Pi, Editor-in-Chief of the Columns, Manager of the Debate Team, and President of the West Virginia Inter-collegiate Press Association. He also acted as Assistant Director of Publicity.

The Student Body Officers, as heads of our student government program, have strived to produce a more efficient government, a closer harmony and cooperation in faculty-student associations, and a more pleasant social attitude of the students, and a higher degree of self-sufficiency. Realizing that they were in a position to further the prestige of Fairmont student government, they sincerely endeavored to attain higher standards in school activities. Following a policy of more student entertainment, the Student Body Officers and the Student Council closely cooperated in a successful administration.

Fairmont College boasts of having one of the most highly developed student government programs in the state. On November 7, 1907, the student government was inaugurated, under the guidance of Dr. C. J. C. Bennett, president of the college at that time. The years since its establishment the student government has encouraged a close co-operation with the administration, a higher degree of efficiency, and a pleasing development in the social attitudes of the students.

The height that the student government has achieved is largely due to Dr. Rosier's firm belief in the ability of young people to govern themselves. The student government has endeavored to prove by its existence its indispensability to the progress of educational privileges.

The regulating of all affairs pertaining to fraternities or sororities rests in the hands of the Inter-fraternity Council. This Council is composed of one representative from each fraternal organization on the campus. Meetings are held at regular intervals and the Council has its own constitution. The office of president is rotated in order of the formation of the organization on Fairmont College campus.

The organization sponsors an annual pan-hellenic dance to which only members of Greek letter organizations are invited.

PUBLICATION BOARD

The Publication Board selects eligible students for the editorships of the major school publications. This board submits the names of the qualified persons to the Student Council for final approval. Other members of the editorial staffs are recommended to be officially approved by the Student Council. The authority of this board is authorized by the constitution of the Student Body. The members include the faculty advisors of recognized school publications, editors-in-chief of those publications, and the president and treasurer of the Student Body.

QUEEN
ELAINE I

Vivacious, talented Elaine Hutchinson was crowned Queen Elaine I of the Junior Prom in honor of the seniors by the Junior Class of 1942.

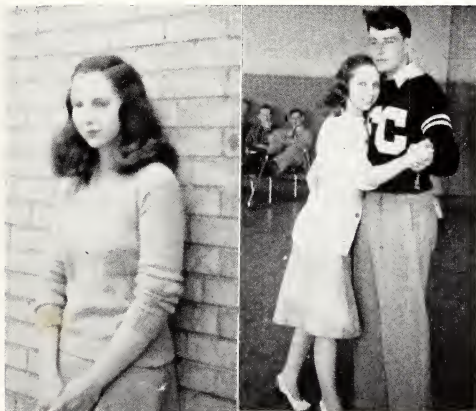

Not only being one of the most beautiful ceremonies of the social activity events, this was the first big social affair to be staged in the new Colebank Gymnasium, the pride of the student body.

Merriment was spelled in full glory by the spectators who witnessed the enchanting procession. Pastel shades of the elegant gowns in the Queen's court outshone other school festivities as the maid-of-honor and princesses paraded slowly to the Queen's throne. Here they were met by handsome escorts in summer evening attire.

Numerous spring flowers and large green palms surrounded the dance floor which added enjoyment to the evening's courtly splendor. As all courts have their entertainers Josephine Jenkins vocally serenaded the Queen and members of her court.

Any prom would not be complete without the flower girl and crown bearer. These highlighted spots were delightfully performed by little Carrol Smith as flower girl and modest "Jackie" Wallman, crown bearer.

Each year, and this year was not an exception, the juniors dutifully and eagerly plan the jollity. The committee chairmen, who ably assisted Eugene Satterfield, Junior Class president, and Miss Ruth Staley, Junior Class advisor, were Carroll "Bootsie" Kearns, Anne Lynch, Thomas Koon, Mary Jean Charleton, Dorothy McBee, and William Hogan.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

JASPER H. COLEBANK

Director of Athletics

WILFORD WILSON

Coach

Athletic Director Jasper Colebank held the position of coach of the Fighting Teachers from 1924 until he resigned in 1940 to become Director of Athletics and Physical Education for men. The fact that Jasper Colebank was very well liked by the students and faculty was proved when his name was chosen, by popular vote, for the name of the new gymnasium.

Wilford "Squib" Wilson, an alumnus of this college, has very ably filled the position of head coach succeeding Jasper Colebank. He has produced some of the finest athletic teams in the history of Fairmont College. Under Coach Wilson's direction the football and basketball teams have received state-wide recognition.

FAIRMONT STATE GRID ROSTER

LYLE EDWARDS

Hailing from Grafton, W. Va., "Lum" was one of the lightest members of the backfield and frequently broke into the starting lineup until an old shoulder injury forced him to the side lines. The highlight of his career was a 69 yard dash for a touchdown in the California game.

WILLIAM DILGARD

During his fourth year on the squad, "Bill" was a dependable reserve. He played guard and tackle in cases of emergency. His co-operative spirit will be missed next year.

CARROLL KEARNS

"Bootsie" was one of the smallest men on the squad. Playing regular in his freshman and sophomore years, he was out most of this season due to injuries. He was recently elected Co-Captain of next year's squad.

HOWARD YOHO

"Tub", as he is known to all of the boys, played exceptional football for his first year with all his 225 pounds. One of his most spectacular games was against Salem College.

JOSEPH OLIVERIO

"Joe" was the smallest man on the squad, weighing a mere 135 pounds. His speed and dependency made up for his light weight. Joe was inducted into the U. S. Army immediately following football season.

JOHN SHILLEY

Playing end, "Squirrel" broke into the starting lineup several times and was a most reliable reserve. His defensive and offensive ability should be valuable to next year's team.

ROBERT BARNES

For the fourth year of regular playing in the backfield, "Bob" was one of the most reliable blockers and tacklers on the team. Through his hard, efficient play he was known as a hustler on the team. Coach Wilson will be handicapped next year in trying to fill "Bob's" position.

FRANK MEYERS

"Frankie" was one of the two regular ends held over from last year. He sustained a permanent knee injury in the West Virginia Tech game and was forced to retire from athletics.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

STEVE YERGOVICH

"Steve" was perhaps the largest man on the squad, tipping the scales at 235 pounds. But his weight was no handicap to his speed and agility, as he was one of the fastest runners on the squad. Always willing to play his hardest, Steve was one of the team's most reliable players.

ROBERT PENCE

Completing his second year as a regular, "Bob" became recognized by the opposing teams and sport scribes as one of the hardest runners in the state. He handled the fullback position and called signals for the team. Expectations are great for "Bob" next year.

RICHARD BERRY

"Dick" is one of the most vicious tacklers on the squad. His offensive and defensive play from his end position made him one of the spark-plugs of our team. Handicapped with injuries for several games, he made up for lost time in the last two.

FRANK ALLESSIO

Playing regular for the second year, "Frankie" became renowned for his offensive and defensive tactics. He played guard and held that position like the Rock of Gibraltar. Along with Kearns, he will serve as Co-Captain next year.

LEONARD WALLS

Serving as Co-Captain, "Fiz" was voted one of the best centers in the West Virginia Conference. His rugged defensive playing was dominant in all games. Graduating this year, he will be missed by next year's team.

JOHN TATTA

"Spud" played tackle for four years and three of these was voted a place on the West Virginia All-Conference team. He was an exceedingly rugged player on the defense and seldom games were ever made over his position. John was forced to quit school and thus was interrupted in his brilliant athletic career.

JACK BRAEBENDER

Coming from Greenwich, Conn., and playing his second year as a regular, "Jack" was one of the most elusive runners on the team. His running ability helped to place him third among high scorers in the state. His defensive work as safety man also deserves recognition.

FORREST McDUGAL

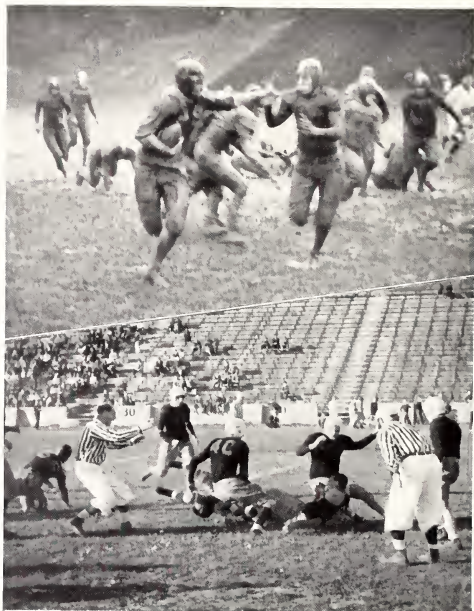

Playing his second year on the first team, "Ted" was one of our most efficient blocking backs. Although he carried the ball very little he usually made long gains. We are very fortunate in having him back next year.

LAWRENCE DUDAS

"Larry" was one of the few freshmen who made the starting lineup. His defensive and offensive play was spectacular and his pass-receiving ability unsurpassed. Larry's home town is Greenwich, Conn.

MITCHELL BODZEK

A regular for the fourth year, "Mitch" was one of the best linemen in the history of Fairmont College. His willingness to co-operate made him one of the most popular athletes on the campus. He also served as Co-Captain.

THE SEASON IN REVIEW

FAIRMONT VS. WEST LIBERTY

Fairmont's Fighting Teachers started the season with a victorious defeat over the West Liberty Hilltoppers of Wheeling on September 26. On a 29 yard pass from Pence to Braebender in the second period Fairmont scored the only touchdown of the game and added another tally on Pence's extra point placement. Fighting a brilliant and hard earned game throughout the last half, State defeated the defending West Virginia Conference champions, 7 to 0.

FAIRMONT VS. WEST VIRGINIA TECH

Suffering a set-back in the second game of the year, Fairmont State lost by a heart-breaking one point margin to the West Virginia Tech Bears. In a steady rain the Teachers were forced to confine their game to unspectacular running plays. Although drawing first blood, the Bears came back in the last period to score, defeating Fairmont, 7 to 6.

FAIRMONT VS. CALIFORNIA TEACHERS

Moving into high gear, Fairmont completely overpowered the helpless California Vulcans. By the use of power plays mixed with tricky reverses, the Professors scored in every period. Fairmont sparkled both offensively and defensively, and only once permitted the Vulcans to pass the midfield stripe. Fairmont made twelve first downs to California's four and defeated the Vulcans, 34 to 0.

FAIRMONT VS. SHEPHERD

Splashing their way in a drenching rain and ankle-deep mud, the Teachers' smooth-working and hard-charging aggregation flattened the Shepherd Rams. With stellar blocking Fairmont easily rolled over Shepherd in the annual Dad's Day event before a water-soaked crowd of 600 fans. Without once taking to the air, the Maroon and White warriors defeated the Rams, 20 to 0.

FAIRMONT VS. SALEM

Recovering Salem's fumble on the fourth play of the game, Fairmont scored in the next three plays on Braebender's 16 yard reverse. Both teams played sterling defensive ball for the remainder of the game with no further scoring. At the final whistle, Fairmont still led, 7 to 0.

FAIRMONT VS. GLENVILLE

Coming to life in the final stanza, Fairmont scored two rapid-fire touchdowns after three quarters of scoreless dueling. Four thousand fans crowded Rosier field to see what looked like a scoreless tie when the Professors suddenly exploded. Out of a clear sky the renowned "Chattanooga Choo-Choo" play, a beautiful pass from Pence to Braebender, scored the first touchdown. John Tatta, ace lineman, intercepted a forward pass and raced 30 yards for the second touchdown which clinched the game. Final score, 13 to 0.

FAIRMONT VS. CONCORD

Suffering a severe defeat at the hands of Concord, State was nosed out of the Conference title. Although injuries and bad breaks had splattered Fairmont's starting line-up, Coach Wilson's team went down in glorious defeat. This ended one of the best football seasons in Fairmont College's history. Final score—25 to 0.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

WALTER OWENS

"Walt's" ability to retrieve the ball from the banking-boards and his low, fast dribbling made him one of the best guards in the Conference. Serving with Belcastro as Co-Captain, he was one of the best leaders that Fairmont College has produced.

JOHN DEWEY HAWKINS

"Dewey's" cool, aggressive play made him a very noticeable player at all times. Transferring from a southern school, he became the backbone of the defense and his passing ability made him an important cog in Fairmont's fast-breaking offense.

ROBERT PENCE

Completing his third year, "Bob" was recognized as one of the outstanding collegiate basketball players in the state. Chosen on the West Virginia All-Conference Basketball team, Bob scored 446 points. For the second consecutive year he has scored over 400 points and placed second in state high-scoring.

FRANK BELCASTRO

Completing his third year on the team, Frank placed third in squad scoring. Although small in stature, his ball-hawking and dead shooting made him one of the most valuable men on the team. He was Co-Captain.

THOMAS JUDY

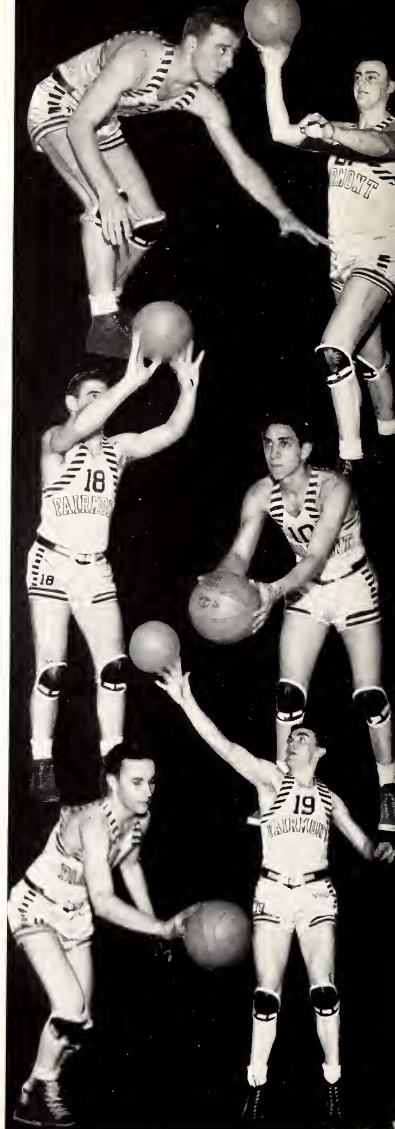

Due to the seasoned veterans, "Tom" was forced to a reserve position but played sterling ball when he saw action. This was significant when Salem downed Fairmont in the West Virginia Conference Tournament at Buckhannon. Tom has a promising future in three more years of college basketball.

JACK MILLER

Returning to the team after last year's eye injury, "Punkin" established himself as one of the best pivot men in the conference. His accurate play under the banking boards helped him score 280 points, second in squad scoring.

ROBERT JOHNSON

Handling his reserve position with the accuracy and technique of a veteran, "Bob" was the only out-of-state boy on the squad. He comes from Pennsylvania. In future years his playing will be valuable to the team.

GEORGE HAMRICK

George played high school ball at Grafton, W. Va., and as a freshman played brilliant ball for the Teachers. One of our best utility men, he could play any position efficiently. Three more years of college basketball should prove his potentialities.

JOHN VICTOR

John, a guard, saw the least service of any member of the squad. During the time he did play he proved to the others that he had the makings of a good defensive man.

LEONARD MUTH

Competing in practically every sport, "Len" is one of our most versatile athletes. As a freshman, he proved his ability on the basketball court with his stellar brand of reserve play. Gaining experience this year, he will be invaluable to next year's squad.

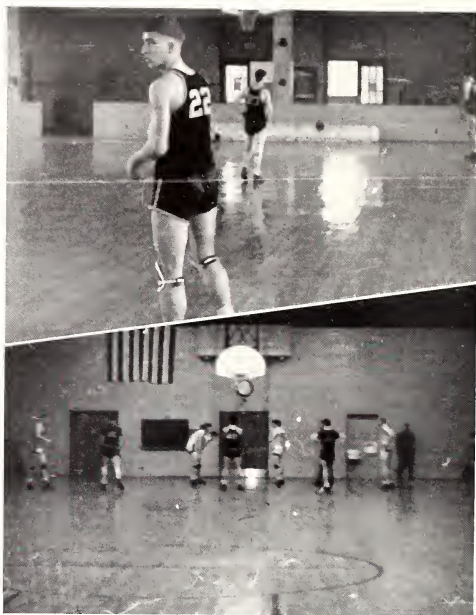

WARREN OWENS

A brother of "Walt" Owens, this other half of the Clarksburg, W. Va., twin combination was a very dependable reserve with aggressive play. A hard player, he could always be depended upon to play his best whenever needed.

THE SEASON IN REVIEW

Losing only one home game in the new, spacious Colebank Gymnasium, Fairmont's Fighting Teachers completed the most successful basketball season in Fairmont State College's history. The Teachers played six games abroad before returning to compete with the West Virginia Wesleyan hoopsters in the dedication program at Colebank Gym.

Robert Pence, ace forward, placed second in state-wide scoring with 446 points to his credit. Jack Miller and Frank Belcastro placed second and third, respectively, in team scoring. Winning 17 out of 23 contests, the Fairmont quintet ranked high in Conference honors.

At the Conference tournament at Buckhannan Fairmont was defeated at the hands of Salem, finishing a most successful season.

TENNIS

BASEBALL

The Tennis Team of Fairmont State College, played all but one of their scheduled matches, this being with California State College which was called off due to rain. Fairmont won four matches in seven starts, thereby winning the West Virginia Conference Championship title.

The team had six veterans returning to the nets, these being Captain Eugene Satterfield, Carl Miller, John DeMary, John Victor, Harry Cronin and Sam Stidger. The remainder of the team was composed of new men, who look very promising for the coming year, these being Harley Pyles, Howard Fleming, and Anthony Stidger.

Coach C. A. Lindley has built up a team which has all the promises of being able to stand up against any college team of the State.

Coach Wilson was able to mold together a nine that displayed a clever brand of ball throughout the season. As a nucleus for the club Coach Wilson had veterans Austin Harper, John Tatta, Granville Rudy, Mitchell Bodzek, Bob Barnes, Bob Pence, Len Walls, Jack Coulter, Everett Bailey, and Frankie Belcastro. Newcomers were Lum Edwards, Jack Braebender, Carnie Davis, and John Shilley.

The Race is to the Strong!

Tens of thousands of virile, hopeful, thoughtful young men and women are leaving friendly college halls behind them this year, entering the long corridor of life in a world torn by war and strife. But the race now, as always, is to the swift.

It is no mere chance that your electric service company is able to meet the demands of this critical period. And it will be no mere chance when success crowns the efforts of this year's graduates. With courage, vision, and hard work, you will succeed. Good luck!

Fairmont State Teachers College

This institution is centrally located in a populous section of West Virginia. It is convenient to the homes of a large number of young men and women who are offered superior educational advantages. This college provides the following advantages which should be carefully noted by young people in northern West Virginia seeking higher education:

1. It has a faculty of highly trained and experienced men and women.
2. It has a large library of well selected books.
3. It has a modern well equipped Science Building.
4. It offers unusual opportunities for student activity and participation.
5. It has a rich and educative social life.
6. It provides higher education at moderate cost to the student.
7. Its graduates rank high in the field of teaching and at other institutions.

The cooperation of graduates and students in building up our college is requested. If our graduates believe the above statements they should impress them upon their friends who are choosing a school. For information write to Joseph Rosier, President.
